

Teaching Quality Assurance

There are three stages of students' learning assessment which are done through the school's teacher performance review system.

One month after the beginning of each semester

Assessment Measures

The measures include the following three components: teaching quality control, teacher performance review, and teaching quality improvement schemes.

